Foreword

Welcome to the Monthly presentation organised by the Dissemination Branch of the Central Statistical Office (CSO). The CSO embarks on vigorous information delivery strategy to major stakeholders and the media institutions in order to increase utilisation of statistical products and services. The office produces a number of statistical products in the Economic, Social, Agricultural and Environmental areas. The information collected in these areas may be used for various purposes including policy formulation, planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of programmes and projects.

This Monthly publication is an attempt to provide highlights of CSO's work and how it can help media institutions and the general public to make use of data and information for sustainable national development and decision-making.

I would like to urge our readers and users of statistical information to send to us any comments that may enhance statistical production and contribute to the improvement of this bulletin.

In terms of percent shares of all workers in the formal sector, the private sector had the largest share throughout 2011. About 61 percent of workers in the formal sector in the first quarter were in privately-run establishments while Central Government accounted for the second largest with 23.4 percent. The results further show that by fourth quarter of 2011, the percent share of workers in the formal sector remained virtually the same with the largest percent share being in the privately-owned establishments (66.1 percent), followed by Central Government (26.2 percent), while the lowest percent share (3.2 percent) was local government workers.

Analysis of formal sector employment by industry shows that Personal, social and community services industry accounted for the highest share of workers throughout 2011. In the first and second quarter 2011, 39.3 percent of all workers in the formal sector were in the Personal, social and community services industry. The percent share of workers remained highest in the third quarter (33.7 percent) and fourth quarter (34.0 percent).

The second highest percent share of workers in the first and second quarter was in the Wholesale and retail trade industry at 20.1 percent and 19.1 percent, respectively. However, in the third and fourth quarter, the second highest percent share of workers was in the Agriculture, forestry and fishing industry at 14.0 percent and 13.5 percent, respectively.

AGRICULTURE STATISTICS

Another Maize Bumper Harvest expected!

Zambia expects to have another bumper maize harvest in 2012, according to the results of the Crop Forecasting Survey for the 2011/2012 Agricultural Season. Results indicate that 2,852,687 metric tonnes of maize is expected to be harvested. This year's expected maize production represents a 5.6 percent reduction from last agricultural season's forecast production of 3,020,380 metric tonnes of maize.

Of the expected total maize production of 2,852,687 metric tonnes, Eastern Province will account for the largest share, at 20.2 percent (or 577,525 metric tonnes). Southern and Central provinces are expected to contribute 20.1 and 17.3 percent, respectively. The rest of the provinces are expected to each contribute less than 10 percent to the total maize production. Western Province, with 2.8 percent contribution of the expected total maize harvest, will account for the least, followed by Lusaka Province, with a contribution of 3.4 percent.

Percentage Distribution of Forecast Total Maize Production by Province, 2011-2012 Agricultural Season

Source: CSO; Agriculture statistics, 2012

Overall, Commercial or Large-Scale farmers are expected to contribute 5 percent of the maize production at national level. The contribution of the large-scale farms sector to the expected maize production is highest for Copperbelt Province, accounting for 17.3 percent. This is followed by Lusaka and Central Provinces, where large scale farmers will, respectively, contribute 15.5 and 10.8 percent of the total expected provincial maize production.
