Foreword

Welcome to the Monthly presentation organised by the Dissemination Branch of the Central Statistical Office (CSO). The CSO embarks on vigorous information delivery strategy to major stakeholders and the media institutions in order to increase utilisation of statistical products and services. The office produces a number of statistical products in the Economic, Social, Agricultural and Environmental areas. The information collected in these areas may be used for various purposes including policy formulation, planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of programmes and projects.

This Monthly publication is an attempt to provide highlights of CSO's work and how it can help media institutions and the general public to make use of data and information for sustainable national development and decision-making.

I would like to urge our readers and users of statistical information to send to us any comments that may enhance statistical production and contribute to the improvement of this bulletin.

2010 CENSUS OF POPULATION AND HOUSING

Zambia's young population, potential for continued future growth

Zambia has a very young population that will ensure continued growth into the future, even when fertility levels have been reduced. Final population results show that 45.4 percent of the population is aged 0-14 years. The population aged 0-14 years make up 48.6 percent of the total rural population and 40.5 percent of the total urban population.

At province level, the province with the highest percentage of its total population in the age group 0-14 is North Western Province at 48.8 percent, followed by Northern Province at 48.7 percent and Muchinga Province at 48.6 percent. Lusaka Province at 40.4 percent has the lowest percentage of its total population in the age group 0-4 years.

Percentage of the total population that is aged 0-14 years by Region and Province, Zambia 2010

Source: Zambia 2010 Census of Population and Housing

This high percentage of the total population that is aged 0-14 is a result of high birth rates, which have continued to contribute to the high population growth rates experienced by Zambia over time.

Future population growth and trends will be highly influenced by this young population. The theme for this year's World Population Day commemoration, "universal access to reproductive health services" resonates well with Zambia's current and future demographic trends, as well as the need for the country to attain sustainable population growth.
