FOREWORD

Welcome to our monthly dissemination of selected official statistics. The Zambia Statistics Agency (ZamStats), embarks on vigorous information delivery strategy to major stakeholders and the media institutions in order to promote understanding and use of official statistics both within and outside Zambia. In undertaking its mandate as the sole designated entity responsible for the publication of official statistics, the Agency produces a number of statistical products in the Economic, Social, Agricultural and Environmental theme areas. The final part of the activity carried out by any data collection, compilation and analysis, is the routine dissemination of statistics. The information shared may be used for various purposes including policy formulation, planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation of development programmes, as well as research.

This Monthly publication, released on the last Thursday of each month is an attempt to provide highlights of the work of the Agency and how it can help media institutions and the general public to improve understanding and uptake of statistical information for decision-making and sustainable national development. This is in line with the Statistics Act No. 13 of 2018, section 7(2) (n).

I would like to urge our readers and users of statistical information to send to us any comments that may enhance statistical production and contribute to the improvement of this bulletin.

Population Projection, 2023-2047

Zambia's Population to hit 39.9 Million in 2047

Zambia's population is projected to reach 39.9 million in 2047, representing a demographic shift characterized by decelerating annual growth rates, increased urbanization, and rising life expectancy. These trends underscore the critical need for evidence-based planning and resource allocation to effectively address the socio-economic demands of a growing and urbanizing society.

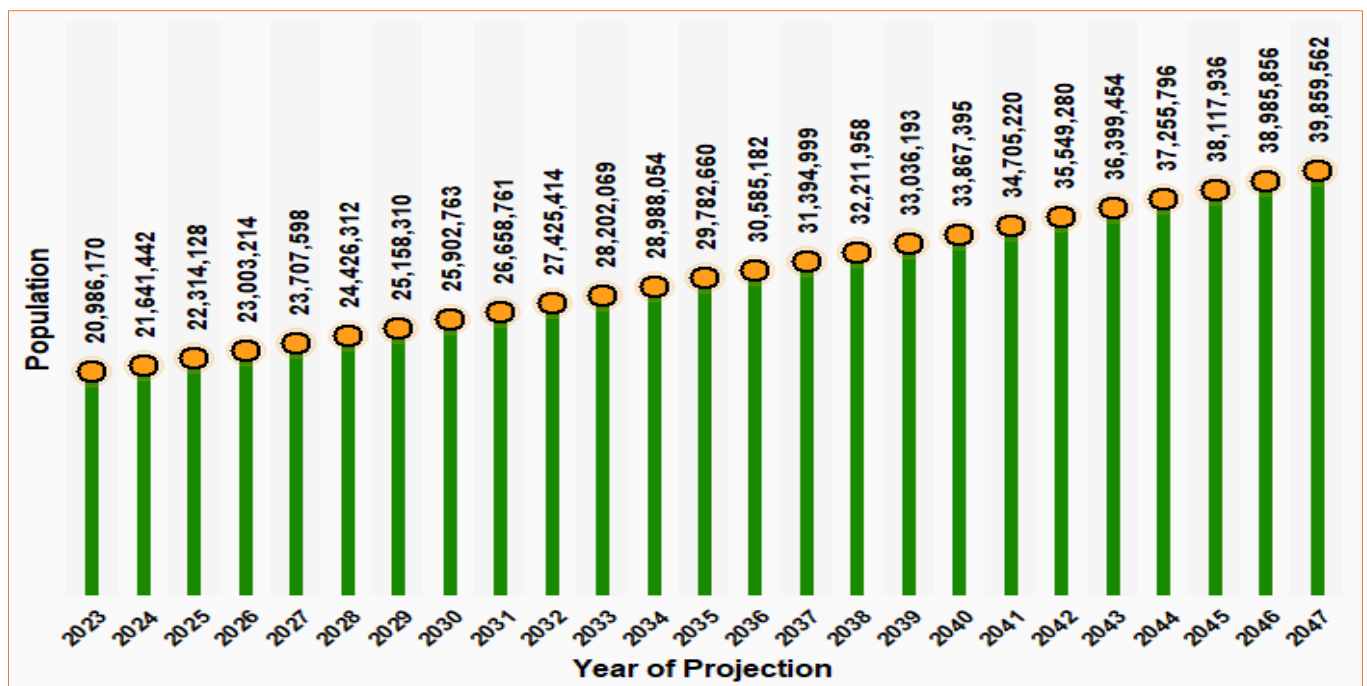

Rational for making the Projections

Population projections are one of the key products produced from the 2022 Census of Population and Housing. They provide estimates of future population size, age structure, and distribution, which are essential for informed decision-making. Policymakers, planners, and researchers use population projections for planning and resource allocation during the intercensal period. For example, population projections serve as denominators for calculating key indicators such as Gross Domestic Product (GDP) per capita, labour force participation rates, child immunization coverage rates, school enrolment rates and other socio-economic and demographic indicators.

Population Size

Zambia's population size is projected to be 39.9 million in 2047, according to the current mid-year medium-variant projections. Figure 1 shows that the population will increase to 39,859,562 in 2047 from 20,986,170 in 2023 (see Figure 11).

Population Size by Sex

The female population is projected to consistently continue being higher than the male population during the projection period (see Figure 12).

Population Growth Rate

Overall, Zambia is expected to experience an average annual growth rate of 2.7 percent throughout the projection period 2023-2047, with rural areas averaging 2.3 percent and urban areas averaging 3.0 percent.

While Zambia's total population is increasing, the pace at which the population is growing will steadily decline. The average annual population growth rate is expected to drop from 3.1 percent in 2023 to 2.2 percent in 2047.

By region, urban areas will consistently maintain the highest annual average growth rates, from 3.4 percent in 2023 to 2.6 percent in 2047, while rural growth is projected to decline from 2.8 percent to 1.7 percent over the same projection period (see Figure 13).

Urbanisation

Zambia's population is not only growing in numbers but is also becoming a more urbanized society. About half of the country's population is expected to be residing in urban areas by 2047. In 2023, 45.4 percent of the population was residing in urban areas. In 2047, this is projected to rise to 49.5 percent (see Figure 14).

Life Expectancy

Figure 5 shows a steady upward trend in life expectancy for both males and females in Zambia. Male life expectancy is projected to increase by 6.6 years from 64.2 years in 2023 to 70.8 years in 2047, while females's life expectancy is expected to rise by 6.2 years from 69.6 years to 75.8 years over the same period (see Figure 15).

LAYMAN AND STATISTICS

Demographic Statistics

Census: The count of a given population (or other phenomena of interest) and record its characteristics, done at a specific point in time and usually at regular intervals by a government entity (or any other entity) for the geographic area or subareas under its domain. Examples include Population Census, Housing Census, Census of Business establishments, Agriculture Census etc.

Census Coverage: An estimate of how complete a census was of a given population.

Census Night: This refers to the night preceding the Population Census.

Geographical and Mapping

Boundary: A line which defines the extent of an aerial unit or the locations where two areas meet. A boundary is represented in a GIS as a line feature which may define a side of a polygon. The boundary may or may not be visible on the ground, i.e., it can follow real world features, such as roads and rivers or it can be defined solely by geographic coordinates.

Geographical Information System (GIS): A computer system capable of capturing, storing, editing, integrating, manipulating, analysing and displaying data related to positions on Earth's surface.

Global Positioning System (GPS): The Global Positioning System (GPS) is a space-based navigation system that provides location and time information in all weather conditions, anywhere on or near the Earth where there is an unobstructed line of sight to four or more GPS satellites.

Constituency: An electoral boundary segmented for the purpose of electing a member of the National Assembly.

Constituency Boundary: A Constituency Boundary is a representation of a constituency on an election thematic map and is symbolized as a polygon feature. A collection of wards forms a Constituency.

Province: An area with defined boundaries either by counties, districts, countries or any other specificity, which can clearly differentiate boundaries and is normally named according to the campus direction with respect to the surrounding areas. It can be administrative or statistical.

Ward: A Ward is an electoral boundary segmented for the purpose of electing a councillor.

Rural Area: An area that lacks most if not all the facilities/amenities found in the urban areas. The population tends to be scattered.

Urban: This is a place-based characteristic that incorporate elements of population density, social and economic organization, and the transformation of the natural environment into a built environment.

Urbanization: The process by which there is an increase in the proportion of people living in urban areas. The common indices used to describe urbanization are: population size, population density and level of administration.

- This also refers to a broad-based rural to urban transition involving population, land use, economic activity and culture, or any of these.

Consumer Price Index (CPI)

Consumer Price Index (CPI): Measures changes over time in the general level of prices of goods and services that households acquire for the purpose of consumption. The basket relates to a selection of goods and services that is representative of the consumption habits of most households in the country.

Inflation: Inflation is defined as a sustained increase in the general level of prices for goods and services over a period of time.

Annual Inflation: The annual Inflation Rate is the change in the CPI for all items of the relevant month of the current year compared with the CPI for all items of the same month in the previous year expressed as a percentage.

Consumption: Any activity in which households use goods and/or services to satisfy their needs and wants but not for business purposes nor for the acquisition of wealth. Thus investment in all forms of assets is excluded.

International Merchandise Trade and Balance of Payment Statistics

Balance of Payments (BoP): These are the summaries of all transactions that a country's individuals, companies and government bodies complete with individuals, companies and government bodies outside the country.

Bill of Entry: This is a document against which goods are entered to obtain customs clearance and with which any duties thereon are paid.

Capital Goods: These are physical assets that are used in the production process to manufacture products and services.

Certificate of Origin: This is an important international document that certifies that goods in a particular export shipment are wholly obtained, produced, manufactured or processed in a particular country. They also serve as a declaration by the exporters.

Consumer Goods: These are goods designed for use by final consumers.

Cost Insurance and Freight (Cif): The type of values including the transaction value of the goods, the value of services performed to deliver goods to the border of the exporting country and the value of the services performed to deliver the goods from the border of the exporting country to the border of the importing country.

Free on Board (FoB): The type of values including the transaction value of the goods and the value of services performed to deliver goods to the border of the exporting country.

Goods in Transit: This refers to goods simply being transported through a country.

Intermediate Goods: These are products which are not final but are used as inputs for production.

Raw Material: These are materials in unprocessed or minimally processed states, used to produce finished or intermediate goods.
